DEPARTMENTS SCATTERED OVER CITY

Would House All of Them in One Building, for Which Commission Now Has Half a Million Dollars at Its Disposal.

Special Columbus Correspondent.

Columbus, Oct. 25.—Ohio very soon is going to have a new, or rather an additional, state house and people who have ideas on how such a structure should be built and what it should cost and how much it should embrace in the way of capacity have now the opportunity of making themselves a very important factor in the erection of the new structure. It might be set forth at the outset that the Ohio commission which has the duty of planning and building the new structure have something more than a half million dollars at their disposal and stand in the way of getting more if the present allowance should prove insufficient. The commission has broad powers. It has been asked by the legislature simply to make more room for state offices. It can enlarge the old state house if it wants to. Or it can build annexes to it. But practically all the members of the commission have agreed that neither of the plans mentioned is feasible and the prospect of a new structure is virtually assured. The big consideration in the new building will be space. Ohio has been growing with such stupendous strides that she has crowded herself out of her present Capitol, regardless of the fact that that structure was deemed a half century ago by the most trained of experts as big enough for the growth of any state for at least 1,000 years. To get as much additional space as possible for an expenditure of from one half to one million dollars is the problem for the commission. Naturally it wants help and advice. People who have ideas on the question are therefore invited to send them in. They may prove valuable. Should the new structure be a skyscraper such as now fills the skyline of all the big cities, or should it be some lower and perhaps more graceful structure? Or should it be a compromise of some kind between the two extremes? The commission has got to answer the question soon, and although it will employ trained architects, it will be glad at any time to get the suggestions of more humble citizens. Meantime state departments are scattered over Columbus in a sort of haphazard way in rented buildings for the simple reason that the state's business is growing so fast that no adequate housing system could be devised when the old Capitol was being outgrown.

Go Home to Vote.

Many state officials and employees will leave Columbus tomorrow to go to their homes to remain there until after election. The supreme court, in keeping with a custom of long standing, will recess Friday until next Thursday. Each of the seven members of the court reside away from Columbus. Gov. Willis will go to Ada Monday to cast his vote there Tuesday. Employees who wish to do so are permitted to return to their homes to vote on election day. Many employees vote in Columbus, thus forfeiting their right to vote in the place from which they came.

Will Dine Wilson.

The Columbus chamber of commerce will give a dinner in honor of President Wilson upon the occasion of his visit in this city Dec. 10, when he will deliver an address before the national meeting of the Council of Churches of Christ. It is expected that the president will give a talk at the dinner in which he will present his views about the need of preparedness in this country. This coming on the eve of the convening of congress will have special significance.

Pomerene Addresses Students.

In an address before the students of the Ohio State university in Columbus Wednesday afternoon, United States Senator Atlee Pomerene denounced American citizens who come from foreign countries who vilify this country because of its position in the European

BUSINESS IN IRON AND STEEL ON INCREASE

An Extraordinary Demand Is Bringing About Conditions Which Prevailed Several Years Ago.

New York, Oct. 28.—The Iron Age says: Despite efforts of the larger steel companies to hold the demand in check signs of a runaway steel market are increasing. They report orders coming in at such an enormous rate that all of them are being carefully considered before being accepted. This month will establish new records in the output of iron and steel, but in spite of the huge production the mills are getting further back in deliveries. The extraordinary demand for open hearth steel is bringing about conditions, which prevailed several years ago under similar conditions. The Carnegie Steel Co. is preparing to start its plant at Columbus, O., which has two 300-ton blast furnaces and a 500-ton Bessemer steel department.

Barb wire, steel rounds, forging billets, blooms and wire rods are conspicuous in the export demand and over $40 per ton has been paid for wire rods. Better than $50 has been paid for forging blooms, and one inquiry alone for France is for 100,000 tons.

In the past week steel bars, shapes and plates advanced $1 per ton, sheets $2, hoops $5, railroad spikes $2, shafting $2, cold rolled strip steel $3, bands and billets $1, sheet bars $1.50 and prompt furnace coke 60 to 75 cents. Bar iron at Chicago was marked up $2 per ton.

Chicago reports rail orders placed the past week totaling 42,000 tons, with an additional 7,000 tons about to be closed. The pig iron market is very strong and prices are not only maintained but are being advanced in some districts.

Hiding in the Wilds.

Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 28.—The uninhabited fastnesses of the Kiamichi hills, in the far southeastern corner of Oklahoma, rendezvous of bandit gangs since frontier days, are believed to be holding five of the eight men who Wednesday held up and robbed a Missouri, Kansas & Texas passenger train at Onapa, 27 miles south of Muskogee. Three of the outlaws were thought to be in Texas, after having boldly ridden into Muskogee to obtain medical attention for one of their number and then boarded a southbound train.

Orders Air Pirates.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Secretary Daniels Wednesday ordered the immediate destruction of the world's greatest aeroplane at the Washington navy yard. The new record breaking air pirate will be one of a fleet designed to carry and discharge the secret explosive bombs recently tested successfully at Pensacola. Experts in the navy department say such an air fleet as proposed will be able to destroy any of the great cities of the world it could reach. Bombs could be dropped on battleships 150 miles at sea.

Appointed Social Secretary.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Miss Edith Wallace Benham has been officially designated social secretary of the White House. Miss Benham is the daughter of the late Rear Admiral E. K. Benham and a member of the exclusive "cave dweller" element of Washington society.

Colonel Has a Birthday.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Col. Roosevelt celebrated his 57th birthday Wednesday. He rowed four miles with Mrs. Roosevelt, took a tramp in the crisp October air and attended to his duties for a few minutes before dinner.

TOBACCO AND HEART DISEASE.

Playing a very important part in the high death rate from heart disease is the use of tobacco. The effect of nicotine upon the heart is indicated by the pulse, a most accurate index to the condition of the heart. The pulse says that the heart is partly paralyzed, that its force and vigor are diminished, that it is poisoned, in fact. Old smokers, and many of those who have indulged but a few years, often suffer with palpitation of the heart, intermittent pulse, angina pectoris and other symptoms of derangement of this most important organ. There is, in fact, a diseased condition of the heart which is so characteristic of chronic tobacco poisoning that it has been very appropriately termed "narcotism of the heart." Medical statistics show that about one in every four smokers has this condition. There is good evidence for believing that not only functional, but organic, disease of the heart may be occasioned by the use of tobacco.

A SONG OF LEAVES

O Father Time, discard thy scythe!
'Tis past the time for mowing!
For autumn style are in the skies
And autumn winds are blowing.
For all the grass is brown, alas!
The rose trees naked shiver
And autumn leaves are in the sheaves
Or drifting on the river.
O Father Time, discard thy scythe!
'Tis time the tools were shifted;
Since in the garden and the road
The windrowed leaves lie drifted.
The falling leaves—the laughing leaves

That crowned the brow of June
Are dry and crumbled under feet
In Nature's afternoon!

Like joys of ours—like hopes of ours,
With light and beauty burning,
From day to day they drop away—
Unstayed and unreturning!
The scarlet leaves—the golden leaves,
A countless multitude—
They strew the meadows lavishly
And carpet all the wood!

O Father Time, make haste; make haste!
The afternoon is waning;
And in the forest boughs I hear
October's wind complaining,
And from the northern seas comes
Down

The Winter, Viking savage!
The lovely leaves, thou Genius gray,
Let not his minions ravage!
